

BGR LABEL PRINTING

Label printing is a strategic business unit of BGR. Our seven flexographic and digital presses, laser die finishing system, and a full staff of consultants, designers, and technicians are dedicated to your retail and industrial labeling needs. Unlike other label printers, our expertise across the entire packaging supply chain allows us to take an end-to-end approach to your labeling strategy – from selecting the best packaging and material to installing your next label applying system. Our consultants proactively look for ways to save you money while delivering exceptional quality, timely service, and superior value.

History

We have 30 years experience in custom printing. Having printed millions of custom labels over that time we have the experience and skill to meet all of your labeling needs.

Industry & Markets Served

BGR custom printing serves the following markets: Manufacturing / Wholesale / Retail / Automotive / Food / Pharma / Health Care / Steel / Metals

OFFERINGS

RETAIL & INDUSTRIAL LABELS

Whether you're launching a new product for your brand or need a serialized barcode label to track your inventory, we can develop a custom solution for your unique application. We work with Fortune 500 companies and startups alike.

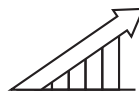

LASER DIE FINISHING

Our state of the art laser finishing system allows us to die cut your unique shape without the need to purchase expensive tooling. We will deliver a die-cut press proof so you can actually see what your applied label will look like before you commit to an order.

GRAPHICS TEAM

No artwork? No problem. We'll work with you to make sure your label designs turn out the way you envisioned them. Our keen attention to detail in art preparation and quality control ensures your labels always turn out right.

SCALABILITY

The combination of both digital and flexo gives you the versatility to print small quantities at a product launch and revise artwork as needed based on results. You can move into larger volume print runs without having to make an initial commitment that cannot be changed.

LABELING EQUIPMENT

We support the sale, service, and install of a carefully curated selection of label printers and applicators. If you have an automated packing line or are considering one, we can ensure your label is automatically applied correctly... every time.

FLEXIBLE DELIVERY

Being a BGR customer means you benefit from our full breadth of packaging supply chain services - including free BGR freight on all orders over $250 within our delivery routes. We can also work with your purchasing team to manage your label inventory and provide Just-in-Time printing & delivery.
